

A detailed map of Northern California, highlighting the project location. A red arrow points to the area near Pt. Reyes State, which is labeled as the project location. The map shows major cities, highways, and geographical features like the Pacific Ocean and various rivers. A box labeled "Project Location" is placed over the map, with the red arrow pointing to the specific area.